FANNIN, Texas – The Guadalupe Blanco River Authority’s (GBRA) Coletto Creek Park and Reservoir staff recently completed electrical upgrades on the park’s Camping Loop No. 1, bringing the outlets to 20/30/50-amp service.

“These updates really will benefit the park’s visitors because many of today’s motorhomes and travel trailers require 50-amp service. We want to ensure that we can accommodate all the different camping vehicles that come into the park,” said Wilfred Korth, chief ranger at Coletto Creek Park and Reservoir. The electrical upgrade project was completed at a cost of approximately $25,000.

The project required park staff to remove old, buried electrical wiring and to trench and lay a new electrical grid in the camping loop. The park has three camping loops with a total of 74 campsites. Fifty-nine of those sites now offer 20/30/50 amp service. All of the campsites have water, a picnic table, and a barbecue pit.

Recreationalists may reserve a specific site up to a year in advance. “We strongly recommend campers make reservations for holiday weekends and during the summer months,” Korth said. The park also has four camping cabins, four rental trailers, and two group pavilions that also can be rented up to a year in advance.

Other amenities at Coletto include a large picnic area, a 200-foot lighted fishing pier, volleyball courts, a mile-long nature trail with two wildlife viewing areas, a boat ramp, playgrounds, and restrooms.

Coletto Creek Park is open year round and offers a wide range of outdoor activities for families, including camping, picnicking, fishing, water activities, hiking, playgrounds, and bird/wildlife viewing. The reservoir continues to be ranked by local users as the “Best Lake” in the region.
