GBRA Waives Permit Fees for Lake Dunlap Residents

SEGUIN, Texas—The Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority (GBRA) is waiving permit fees for residents of Lake Dunlap following a spillgate failure on Tuesday, May 14.

Permits are required if residents are planning on working on docks, bulk heads, or other structures. The construction permit application may be found at <https://www.gbra.org/public/lakemanagement.aspx>.

Currently, there are no restrictions to access Lake Dunlap, and GBRA is not issuing citations. Residents are reminded to exercise caution if attempting to access the river channels and around the banks where water has receded as there may be debris and other potential hazards.
